

Connect the Dots...

Ready Families in Ready Communities:

If families and caregivers can provide quality early childhood development, then children will start school ready to learn.

Ready Services – Health:

If children are healthy, protected, and nurtured in the earliest years, cost savings are realized throughout their lives.

Ready Services – Early Education:

If children start school ready to learn, they are more likely to read at grade level by 3rd grade.

Ready Schools:

If children read at grade level by 3rd grade they are more likely to graduate from high school.

Ready Children with Bright Futures:

If children graduate from high school, they are more likely to go on to higher education and/or enter the job market as tax-paying citizens. Employable, tax-paying citizens are critical to a vital economy.
